

THE ADVERTISER'S CABLE EDITION

The Advertiser's cable edition will appear as soon as the cable begins to deliver news and the reception ceremonies have been held. The number will be a fine one both pictorially and in its descriptive text. Orders are already coming in for the paper in wholesale quantities and those who will want more than one copy as a souvenir or for sending abroad should notify the business office without delay.

"PRINCE" THE FIRE HORSE IS RETIRED

Among the horses which have recently been retired from service with the patrol wagon at the police station, is old "Prince," one of the most efficient animals ever driven by "Charley" Galt or Billingham. "Prince" had a pair of ears which were attuned to the value of almost every sound in and about the station. He knew the footsteps of the men who work mainly about the patrol wagon room, and since the new system of bells connecting with the street signal boxes was installed, his going out of his stall to the suspended brass rack equalled that of any fire horse. But the new fire gong in the station is like music in his ears and at its first stroke "Prince" makes a dash for his station at the wagon pole with a speed that has its dangerous side. Once the electric current did not release his stall rope and he plunged forward until it broke from its fastenings and slid almost to the big closed doors. His departure from the station is much regretted, but his nerves recently failed him, and he is considered a very sick horse.

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERS THE HOSTESSES

The luncheon for young men at the Young Men's Christian Association hall will be given today between 12 and 2 o'clock. Invitations for the usually fine spread are general, and a very large attendance is expected. The Young Women's Christian Association has charge of the lunch, as follows:

General chairman—Mrs. W. H. Mays. Chairmen and members of committees: Decorations, Misses Angus and Love; Dishes, Mrs. Jordan; Tables and Linen, Mrs. Philip Frear; Salads, Mrs. H. H. Williams; Misses Love and Angus; Bread and Butter, Mrs. Andrew Fuller; Mrs. Annis Montague Turner, Mrs. Albert Raas, Mrs. Montague Cooke; Baked Beans, Mrs. Marston Campbell; Mrs. Charles Atherton; Pickles, Olives and Jellies, Mrs. Dr. Derby, Mrs. C. H. Cooke; Oranges and Raisins, Mrs. T. Clive Davies; Coffee, Mrs. B. L. Marx; Mrs. Angus; Cake, Mrs. H. H. Williams; Mrs. Drew, Mrs. W. T. Monarrat, Mrs. G. W. R. King, Mrs. Zeave, Misses Oss and Bruns, Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Mrs. C. B. Damon, Mrs. Noble; Meats, Mrs. A. T. Brock; Waitresses, Mrs. H. C. Brown.

WILL MAKE THEIR NEW YEAR CALLS

The old-time Honolulu custom of making New Year's calls will be revived by a large number of young men today, and a ready response to their suggestions for "open house" has been made by many well known hostesses. As "Cable Day" is hardly in the line of possibilities for today, there will be but few events to interfere with the revival of a custom which in former years had very pleasant features.

A New Year Check.

The prettiest lithographed check that has yet appeared in Hawaii is being distributed through the mails by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, Ltd., to its friends and patrons, ordering "The World's Bank of Content, Goodwill Town, T. P.," to hand over to the payee, whose name is written in, "Three hundred and Sixty-five Happy Days." The check itself is a work of art, and inasmuch as it can be endorsed from one person to another, thus affording a novel way of passing good wishes between friends, they will doubtless find circulation far beyond the limits of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Co.'s mailing lists.

In Paradise.

Wm. M. Langton, publisher of the Paradise of the Pacific, acquired a new Paradise yesterday in the realm of matrimony. He was married to Mrs. Eleanor A. White, whose work on the bright magazine has helped make it such a success. The wedding took place at Kawaiahae church. Mr. and Mrs. Langton begin their new year with the felicitations of a host of friends.

A Volcanic Afterglow.

Prof. Lyons said last night: The afterglows have reappeared during the past few days and last evening the sky at six o'clock was magnificently lighted up. It is evident that volcanic forces have broken out anew somewhere.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The new officers of the Mystic Lodge K. of P. have been installed.

The Wahiawa Dramatic Club was to have given a play last evening to celebrate New Year's Eve.
